EX-SERVICEMAN'S TRIAL HAS STARTED

Chas. Van Duren Is Facing a Jury in Superior Court

Hard work was experienced in obtaining a jury to try Charles Van Duren charged with the killing of Otto Paul Deissel several weeks ago in the Laytonville section.

Accused An Invalid

The slayer of the rancher is an invalid, suffering from a kidney trouble of a grave nature. He saw overseas service and appears to be about 28 years of age. So seriously afflicted is the prisoner it was necessary to provide a mechanical devise to assist him in his diabetis affliction. Were it not for for this the trial would probably have to have been stopped every few minutes and such frequent interruptions would have prolonged the proceedings greatly.

A sister, Mrs. J. H. McGregor, accompanied by her husband is here aiding in the defense of their brother. Mrs. McGregor did excellent Red Cross work during the war and her husband also is an ex-service man.

Probable Defense

It is surmised the defense will center about a plea of self-defense and hatred of Americans. Knowing Mr. Van Duren had fought in the world war the dead man, a German, is alleged to have manifested a great dislike for the ex-service man and there are said to have been several clashes between the two. There is heard a rumor that on one occasion while the prisoner was stooping to chop wood a rifle bullet struck close to his head, having been shot by some unknown person. There is also an intimation the defense will show deceased made threats against his younger neighbor. It will be contended, too, that the dead man was killed while he was running away because his slayer feared he was trying to reach some trees behind which the slayer thought Mr. Diessel would take refuge and begin shooting at him, the prisoner laboring under the belief his enemy was armed.

Hale McCowen, Jr. is defending. Sheriff R. R. Byrnes has gotten his evidence together in his usual excellent fashion and has built up his case in a strong way.

The fact Hale McCowen, Jr. is defending the prisoner gives the defense an advantage which it otherwise would not have had. Mr. McCowen for years was district attorney of Mendocino county and during his long service worked with Sheriff Byrnes and understands perfectly the manner in which Sheriff Byrnes prepares his case. However, Sheriff Byrnes appreciates this fact and probably will be found to have resorted to a different line than he usually follows. Police authorities give Sheriff Byrnes credit for going into court with his cases better prepared than almost any official in the state. Attorneys long ago have acknowledged Sheriff Byrnes understands what is real evidence as well as any lawyer in the county.

MILADY'S SHOPPE IS TO OPEN MARCH 10

H. Schirmer was in town the first of the week looking after his chances of getting a house in which to live, but was not able to find one. Mr. Schirmer stated the new store he is opening will likely be in shape to serve the public by the tenth of this month. The painters and electricians will, in all likelihood, be through with their work by the last of the week and, in about a week thereafter the stock will be on the shelves.

Has Attractive Name

The store will be an exclusive ladies establishment and will carry such complete lines it will not be necessary for one to send to the city to provide what is needed. It has been decided to name the store "Milady's Shoppe."

The interior of the store will be painted a steel gray and the arrangement of the display cases and shelving will be pleasingly carried out. The lighting too, will be of the most up-to-date kind and the store will present a most inviting appearance. The intention of the proprietor will be to serve well and at moderate prices.

A Competent Woman.

Miss Dorothy Schirmer, who is to be in charge of Milady's Shoppe is one of the most competent authorities on women's wear in San Francisco and for a number of years has held an important position with one of San Francisco's largest stores.

EARL L. TOLES HAS FAIR BRIDE

The marriage of Earl L. Toles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Toles of this city and Miss Ruby Taylor of Riverside is an interesting announcement of the week. The wedding took place Thursday afternoon, February 23 and following a brief honeymoon journey the new home will be established at Santa Ana where Mr. Toles holds a good position with a business house.

Met During War

The bridegroom is a Ukiah man with an excellent service record. He is a representative of one of Mendocino county's prominent families and is held in the highest esteem where he grew to manhood. At the outbreak of the war Mr. Toles enlisted and he served for three and one-half years. About a year of the service was passed at March Field, near Riverside, where the romance had its beginning. Miss Taylor is said to be a delightful young woman with personality and talent. She is organist of the First Baptist church of Riverside and numbers her friends by scores. Mr. and Mrs. Toles will probably visit Ukiah shortly at which time they will be the center of much congratulation.

CANDIDATES ARE SHY ABOUT ENTERING

Best interest of the City Demands a Good Board

Although urged to announce themselves, only two citizens have so far come forward with declarations of willingness to serve as town trustees.

Several Are Suggested.

One hears a number of names suggested but the ones most frequently heard are Monte Banker and William Bromley. As stated last week the coming city election should bring out some excellent candidates. The interests of the city have grown to such an extent it will require able administration of the town's property to properly handle the same. Ukiah has gradually been accumulating public utilities until now she has the water system, the gas plant, the electric lighting system and the auto camp grounds. These require careful handling and surely, residents who have the welfare of the community at heart should be willing to sacrifice the time necessary to look after municipal business.

May Need A Meeting.

As the days drag along and no candidates are forthcoming, it begins to look as if it would be necessary to hold some sort of a public meeting or conference where the matter may be discussed and pressure brought on a number of men in order that they may be induced to allow their names to be used.

MENDOCINO MAN ESCAPED—INSTALLED LIBERTY MOTORS

The fatal plunge of the dirigible airship, Roma, over Hampton Roads Tuesday afternoon cost the lives of some 38 persons, principally army men. By good luck a former Mendocino man, Charles Vaughn, oldest son of Mrs. M. Vaughn of Mendocino, did not happen to be among those who went up in the big ship on her last voyage. Mr. Vaughn, who is an expert machinst, and who has had charge of a Government shop at Hampton, Virginia, for some time past, assisted in installing Liberty motors in this craft in place of the Italian motors with which she was first equipped. Her final equipment consisted of ten 400-horse-power motors. After the installation, Mr Vaughn made a trip in the big airship, but on the occasion of her fatal trip he fortunately was not among those who made up her passengers and crew list.

Highway Work Is Described By State

The state highway Commission in its report for the week has the following regarding the paving which will be laid north of Ukiah to Willits:

The Mendocino job was for paving about 17 miles from north of Ukiah to north of Willits where the highway to Eureka first enters the coast mountains. Bids were called for on reinforced concrete five inches thick, and asphaltic macadam six inches thick, both 16 feet wide. The award was made to Conners & Hansen of Santa Rosa on a basis of asphaltic macadam. Their bid was for $274,994.00, plus $18,396.00 State furnished materials, making a total cost of $293,390.00, which is $139,117.80 less than the lowest bid for the concrete type. There were nine bidders on this work, the low bid being $32,806.00 less than the State highway Engineer's estimate for the work.

MAYOR SMITH'S CASE

The condition of Mayor Bud Smith within the last few days has become more serious and yesterday at times his case was grave. A considerable swelling of the body is noticeable and there are said to be other dangerous symptoms. About the city one hears many inquiries regarding Mayor Smith's case and sympathy is expressed by everyone

HAVE A SON

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Baker at Santa Maria, Saturday, Feb. 25. Mrs. Baker was formerly Marie Redwine of Covelo. Judge and Mrs. Robert Redwine were on hand to greet their new grandson who is said to be a lusty youngster weighing eight and one half pounds.

HE GAVE BOND

Deputy Sheriff Ward M. Reise the other day arrested G. Bernardini and he has been placed in the county jail. The accused man was charged with having been selling liquor and his bail was set at $1,000 which he provided.

NOW IN BUSINESS

Mrs. Norris Brittain, formerly of Ukiah, has taken a lease on the Majestic rooming house in Santa Rosa. The building is being renovated and the name changed to Brittain House. It is located over the Chocolate Shoppe.

MEET TONIGHT

The American Legion and the auxiliary to the American Legion will meet in regular session tonight. Business will be the order of the meeting.

ROUND VALLEY A CENTER FOR PUREBREDS

Better Dairy Cattle Being Striven For In United Way

Last Monday, February 20, the people of Round Valley all joined in celebrati a holiday, the school, bank, and stores all being closed. The farmers and dairymen did as little as possible in order to be in town for the big celebration, the occasion being the distribution to the dairymen of a carload of Pure Bred sires and heifers. The meeting was called to order by J. G. Thomas at the Cattle Corral at 11 A. M., the following being the program for the day:

Cattle Judging ,Demonstration and Calf Club Work.

Prof. V. C. Bryant, University of California. 11 A. M. Pure Bred Cattle Breeding in Oregon.

BOTH WERE VICTIMS

The office of the county auditor suffered badly this week in point of sickness, both Mrs. J. J. Mathews, auditor, and Harry Bonnell, accountant, being victims of the prevailing sickness. Mr. Bonnell for a few days was quite ill. Mrs. Mathews' case was not so serious, but she, too, was so badly off as to be unable to leave her home.

SHEEP SUFFERING

Reports from some of the nearby sheep ranges are discouraging. Many sheep are said to be dying because of lack of feed.

IS RECOVERING.

The many friends of Mrs. F. L. Paterson will be glad to learn that she is doing nicely after having her tonsils removed. Dr. R. D. Mace performed the operation.

Trichinosis Victims Are Failing Slowly

Reports coming from the coast say the members of the Zani family, all of whom were stricken with trichinosis after eating pork containing trichina and four of whom died, are not getting along well and that the death of all of the surviving members will ultimately take place as a result of the frightful experience.

Sick Since Christmas

The meat was eaten in the form of salame, or Italian sausage, about Christmas time and the grandmother and two sons died almost immediately. Another son died at the county hospital and following his death the mother, despairing, took the balance of the family home, stating she felt certain all of them would die and that it was her wish they die at home.

MANY ARE ILL

Miss Wilda Schiebel, who made such a fine record in the local schools, writes her parents from the city the number of cases of sickness continues to grow—almost everyone, the young lady writes, is suffering from the epidemic of colds Up to the present, Miss Schiebel says, she has escaped.

R. Weill is back from San Francisco where he went on a business mission.

Sheriff R. R. Byrnes passed most of the week on business among coast towns.

Under Sheriff Gibson, who has been a sufferer from rheumatism for months, continues to improve slowly. In the meantime, however, Mr. Gibson manages to be at his desk regularly.

Judge J. C. Hurley was quite ill for ten days but he is again able to be in his office. Mrs. Hurley was quite ill for a few days, but is now much improved. The twins, happily, escaped the epidemic.

LOOKING FOR LAND

Captain Cecil A. Gorelangton, who resides in the Napa valley, was in Ukiah during the week. It is not improbable Captain Gorelangton will invest in Mendocino county land. At the present time the visitor has a fine ranch in Napa county.

Mrs. J. C. Hebner, who had been visiting in Los Angeles, came up last week to attend the funeral of her mother, the late Mrs. Shoemake, returned to San Francisco Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Hebner have changed their residence and will hereafter live in San Francisco.

BROKEN DOLLAR CO. SELLS UKIAH STORE

R. Weill, who for a long time has been employed by H. Schirmer here, purchased the stock of The Broken Dollar store and is now in charge of the same. Before being with Mr. Schirmer Mr. Weill was at Hofman's.

Mr. Weill is a successful and up-and-coming young businessman and will undoubtedly make a big success of his venture. He understands the value of merchandise and will provide what the people here want. The stock, which is new and extensive, will be added to at once.

Did Not Advertise

While the Ukiah store was the only one of the chain of Broken Dollar stores which had paid during the past year, the business it did was nothing as compared with what it would have been had the management seen fit to advertise. In other cities where no advertising was done by the company owning the stores, the trade dropped off until an assignment was necessary.

ATTENDED LUNCHEON

Oscar Housen and J. J. Higgins attended a banquet at the Hotel Oakland Tuesday last. The gathering was an assemblege of Chevrolet dealers and an address was made by one of the leading officials of the General Motors corporation. Plans for the present season were discussed and policies outlined.

SUPER FEATURE AT VICTORY, MARCH 8-9

When "The Old Nest" comes to the Victory Theatre, on March 8, 9, the people of Ukiah will have a chance to see a picture that has been hailed by critics and reviewers as the most satisfying all-American picture that has yet been produced. The theme, that of a mother who sees her six children leave her, one by one, is common to American families. All the poignancy of feeling that these leave-takings arouse in real life have been caught on the screen.

Rupert Hughes is the author of this unusual tale of mother love. He has sought to present a cross-section of a universal theme as applied to an American family. All the joys and sorrows connected with raising a family have been dramatized. Each of the children grow to manhood or womanhood with his own individual interests, then leaves the old nest to follow the call of his desires. Only their mother is left in her lonliness and her memories. But, as in every American family, the young remember the old nest and return to it.

The picture was produced by Goldwyn and was directed by Reginald Barker. Mary Alden plays the old mother, and her performance has been said to be a masterpiece of screen acting.

An Extra Long Show

While the management has been compelled to charge 22 and 55 cents admission, patrons of the Victory will be well repaid. The feature runs in nine reels and there is a comic showing of two reels beside. "The Old Nest" is portrayed by an all-star cast.

Mrs. Bert Thornton and little daughter, Jean, of Albion came over to Ukiah today while Mr. Thornton went on to San Francisco to attend the funeral of Paul Dimmick.

SCHOOL BONDS TO CARRY NEED BIG VOTE

Two-thirds Majority Required Makes a Doubt Exist

The school bond election is to take place Friday and a lot of quiet work is going on. That there is some opposition cannot be denied, but it is not believed there will be enough of a hostile vote cast to defeat the measure.

Should Work Hard

There is no getting away from the fact a two-thirds majority will be difficult to be had, but it can be gotten if everyone interested in the campaign for better schools gets busy and works. The voters will have to be gotten to the polls and a plan should be arranged so that no voter who is known to be favorable to the cause of the children is overlooked.

Everyone who has given the situation any consideration understands a new school building is needed badly in Ukiah. The school board, if the bonds are voted, intends to provide such an edifice as will take care of the needs of the city for years to come by having the structure so erected as to make it possible to provide additions to take care of the growth in attendance in the future. The sum to be voted will erect the edifice and provide the equipment in every detail. If you are one who wishes to see Ukiah progress you will go to the polls and vote for the bonds Friday.

The Republican Press Sickness Hampered

The prevailing epidemic caused much delay in getting out The Republican Press this week. Operator Hufman, upon his arrival from San Francisco, was so ill with influenza he could not come to work and had it not been for Operators Hufft, of The Dispatch-Democrat and Mr. Phillips, of the Ukiah Printery, who is an old Linotype operator, it would have been indeed hard to get out an issue. Added to the affliction in the composing room Mrs. M. H. Rea also was kept at home by sickness and the society and news pages suffered correspondingly.

Will Do Better.

If all goes well The Press will be as usual next week.

INJURED HIS FOOT

While engaged in his duties at the court house Monday a heavy piece of wood fell on the foot of Janitor Jack Dreyer, injuring it painfully. While no bones were broken the foot was badly bruised and will cause Mr. Dreyer to limp for the next few days.

Paul D. Clary, who not long ago moved to Eureka with his family, was in Ukiah for several days last week. Mr. Clary is doing nicely in his northern home and, while he likes Ukiah immensely, appears to be satisfied in every way with Eureka.

Charlie Moffitt, who is living in Willits where he is employed by Dr. Raymond Babcock, was here for a few hours yesterday.

OVER THE HILL!!

Those three little words above can mean much—either utter despair of a broken and fruitless life —or the sublime happiness of a well regulated existence. Young fathers and mothers of Ukiah which shall it be?

Pictured above is happiness. It shows loving contemplation of life in years to come. It shows their own home, over the hill but in a shady nook, where they will live out a full life of peace and plenty. The other kind of home "over the hill" brings melancholy thoughts—sad words.

At this season of home-building we feel it our public duty to impress upon the young folks of Ukiah the wisdom of thrift.

MENDOCINO COUNTY FARM NEWS

FARM CENTERS OF COUNTY ARE ACTIVE

The Hopland Farm Center held its regular meeting Tuesday, February 21st in Brooks' Hall. A good attendance was had and much interest was manifested in the program outlined by the program committee. Arrangements were made with Mr. F. A. Fetray for a standing pruning demonstration on what is known as the Blalack ranch. The subject of sprays and spraying was discussed at the meeting. The Farm Advisor and C. E. Moffitt were present.

Anderson Valley Center.

Anderson Valley held its regular Center meeting Monday, February 20th, W. P. Burke presiding.

The entertainment committee reported that a splendid time was had at the Farm Center Dance Saturday night and that a good attendance was had in spite of the rainy weather. The music furnished by McCray's orchestra was very much appreciated. The dance was to celebrate the completion of the new auditorium. The Center voted to hold another dance April 15th.

The Project Committee presented the program as outlined in the afternoon by the program committee with the assistance of the Farm Advisor. The subject of sprays and spraying was taken up at the meeting. Also the subject of roads was brought up and a road committee consisting of F. H. Brown, I. C. Burke and V. Rawles appointed to get in touch with the Cloverdale and Coast people with the view of pushing the Anderson Valley to the Coast highway project.

C. E. Moffitt was present and presented the needs for a 100 per cent farmers' organization.

The Anderson Valley Center Program Committee met at the home of C. H. Clow for the purpose of outlinging a program of work for the coming year. The Farm Advisor assisted the committee in drawning up the plans. The following program was outlined:

I. Horticultural Improvement.
  1. Cover cropping demonstration
  2. Fruit pest control.
     (a) Assembling order for poison spray.
     (b) One spray-making demonstration.
     (c) One spraying demonstration and the use of spray spreaders.
  2. One standing pruning demonstration including 30 trees.
  4. Utilization of apple by-products.
II. Livestock Improvement.
III. Marketing wool.
IV. Variety test of grain.
V. Improvement of school grounds
VI. Good roads.

The Farm Bureau Nursery.

O. Morby and the Farm Advisor made a trip to Cloverdale Thursday to inspect rooted resistant grape cuttings to plant in the Farm Bureau Nursery on Morby Bros. property. The following rooted cuttings were selected:

700 of Casselas X Berlandieri 41B
250 of Rupestris X Berlandieri 301A
250 of Berlandieri X Riparia 420A
100 of Berlandieri X Riparia 34
250 of Mourvedre X Rupestris 1202C

The cuttings will be planted in the Mendocino County Farm Bureau as mother vines for growing resistant stock for propagation purposes.

FINE RANCH HOME BEING BUILT BY A NEW ARRIVAL

E. S. Masters is having a modern bungalow home constructed on his ranch at the Forks, which he purchased not long ago. Crawford and Baker are putting up the building and when it is finished, it will be one of the most complete rural homes in the valley.

George L. Tessey, a well-known Buffalo mechanic, said he had gained twelve pounds; his wife had gained twenty-six and his daughter was gaining every day by taking Tanlac. Gibson's Pharmacy.—(Advertisement.)

WOOL MARKET IS STANDING AT 31C

Ed. Gambrel, who was up from his fine ranch the last of the week, was commenting on wool conditions. Mr. Gambrel stated wool was running at about 31 cents these days and, probably would go higher. Wool buyers are numerous and inclined to be optimistic.

Will Advance Money

In many instances sheepmen have been offered advances of $1.00 a head on their sheep, if they believe it is necessary to have money at this time to take care of their bands, but, as far as can be ascertained, only a few sheepmen have seen fit to ask any financial aid.

Horses And Mules Will Come Back

With the ever increasing consumption of gasoline and other products of crude mineral oil, and the wild scramble of the nations of the world to annex all known oil producing territory, economists are now sounding the warning that the limit of production has been reached, and if consumption of gasoline continues at the present rate oil production is bound to decrease in the comparatively near future and this decrease will continue until exhaustion of same practically occurs. While we hear of many substitutes for gasoline as fuel for motor power nothing apparently has been discovered that is economically practical.

Must be Careful.

With curtailed production of gasoline increase in price is bound to occur, and if an economical substitute is not discovered the California Department of Agriculture predicts that our faithful friends the horse and mule undoubtedly will hold sway again on the farm in the orchard, and perhaps on the city streets. Already the signs of the times appear to be pointing in this direction. Once the breeding of horses and mules becomes reestablished there would be no exhaustion of this class of power as demand and nature will fully take care of that.

40,000 Booklets Are To Be Gotten Out

A meeting of the executive committee of the North of the Bay Counties' Association was held in San Francisco last week and plans for publication and distribution of the Redwood Highway folders were completed and the matter of a joint North of Bay counties exhibit at the state fair in September was considered.

To Be Circulated

President W. L. Miller was instructed to order 40,000 of the folders printed and distributed through a tourist agency throughout California, Oregon and Washington.

To Have Pictures

A feature of the highway folder is the map of the Redwood highway, which is illustrated with thumb-nail photographs of the territory through which it runs. Many pictures will represent county scenes, a Ukiah scene being included in these. Brief descriptive paragraphs concerning the district through which the highway runs are also included.

NEW PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRE TAKING WELL IN THE CITY.

C. E. Ganter, distributor for Napa and Mendocino counties for the U. S. Compression Inner Tubes Co. is meeting with much success hereabouts. The tires fill a long-felt want and will be a means of much saving for autoists, as they bring about a 50 to 100 percent saving in casings. The tubes are made in Tulsa, Okla., Burbank, Calif. The local agency is the Moon Garage.

Mendocino County Farm Bureau Marketing Exchange, Inc.

P. O. Box 44 Ukiah, Calif. Phone 357-W

There is being recommended by Mr. Kile, and also others, a Reading Course on the Farm Bureau Movement, in which this book is recommended as the basis for such a course. A number of states are adopting these reading courses and are making a study of the Economic and other conditions which have had important effect on agriculture for a good many years.

The book is offered as follows:

Single Copies ..... at $2.00 each
10-25 Copies ..... at $1.50 each
25-100 Copies ..... at $1.40 each
100-500 Copies ..... at $1.25 each

Parcel post rate is 6c per copy. Printed outline phamplets for a reading course cost 10c per copy.

The State Federation does not keep a supply of the books on hand, though should this county desire to take orders, they can place the same with the local office. Cash should accompany orders on the basis of $2.10 per copy. Should sufficient orders come in to lower the price of the book, differences will be refunded to counties placing orders.

Respectfully submitted,
G. M. MILLER, Secretary.

SUBSCRIBERS MUST PAY FOR THE PAPERS THEY RECEIVE

The lists of The Republican Press have been almost cleared of over-due subscribers, but there are a few remaining and, before placing these old accounts in the hands of an attorney for collection. The Press thinks it is well for subscribers to be reminded that when a publication is taken from the postoffice or mail carrier, it must be paid for, unless it is simply a sample copy. During the war, on government orders, this paper followed the pay in advance rule strictly. After the war, some few subscribers complained of not desiring to pay in advance, so advance payments have not since been enforced. If a paper is not desired, the subscriber should refuse to take the paper from the postoffice or the carrier. It is then the duty of the postoffice to serve legal notice on the publisher. If the subscriber continues to take the paper from the postoffice or mail carrier, he is liable for the payment of the subscription price. This is the law and has been upheld by the courts.

ASSAULT CASE TO START HERE TOMORROW MORNING

The trial of Bodie Hurt, scheduled to start Thursday will be heard by a jury taken from a venire composed of the following citizens of the county recently drawn as jurymen: A. Frye, Boonville; E. M. McCorrison, Comptche; F. W. Kemppe, Fort Bragg; W. A. Morrison, Hopland; J. E. Montgomery, Ukiah; Nettie Paddleford, Mendocino; R. L. Buckman, Hopland; M. L. Lynch, Fort Bragg; Mary Faries, Yorkville; Irin Gilmore, Elk; A. Harmon, Hopland; Eva Cameron, Ukiah; R. Tolman, H. N. Ornbaun, Ornbaun; Clibord Bishop, Cleone; W. D. Connolly, Ukiah; C. M. Ornbaun, Yorkville; H. H. Brokn, Mendocino; John August, Caspar; Jas. Brett, Albion; P. W. Gordon, Hopland; C. Hargraves, Calpella; P. Maxwell, Mendocino; Walter Empey, Elk; L. L. Grover, Potter Valley.

The accused stands charged with having committed an assault with a deadly weapon.

We Are Losing A Lot Of Good Patrons

Much trade, which should come to Ukiah from Boonville and the Anderson Valley district, is now going to Cloverdale. The reason for this is because the roads to Cloverdale from Anderson Valley are better than from Anderson Valley to Ukiah. The Anderson Valley ranchers buy their goods at Cloverdale and do their banking in the Sonoma county town simply because they can get there easier, not because they want to.

How We Can Get It.

It will take approximately $10,000 to put the road over the mountain between here and Boonville in good shape and, if it is made so travel can go over it without danger, the trade that now goes to Cloverdale will come here.

It is just such conditions as the above a Chamber of Commerce can remedy—if the body goes before the Supervisors and makes a showing, it is almost certain the funds will be provided. The more good highways into a community the more dollars will flow into the stores of the merchants. Action should be taken at once in this regard, however, as it is not well to let Anderson Valley residents trade too long at Cloverdale, because they may form connections, which will be held to break away from.

Hop Offers Are Varying Considerably

George A. Proctor, hop merchant of Santa Rosa, has contracted during the past few days for over 1,000 bales of 1922 Sacramento hops at 16 cents a pound. He has also made one contract for 1922 Sonoma's at 17½ cents per pound, and stated on Monday he would take some more hops on contract at 18 cents. Last week he also bought a large quantity of 1921 Mendocino's at 16 cents a pound.

From Portland came word recently that 21 cents a pound was being offered for spot goods, which a local dealer stated meant an advance of five cents a pound in about three weeks. It was mentioned last week that 20 cents a pound was offered on a 100 bale order.

Lakeport Man A Successful Breeder

Z. T. Spencer, a former Lakeport man, who was at one time engaged in the furniture business in Lakeport, has developed a very peculiar fowl, known as a Turken, which is a cross between a Rhode Island Red hen and a small white gobbler. Mr. Spencer claims the fowl is the most vigorous known, and their meat is declared to be the equal of turkey. Six turken hens averaged 221 eggs each last year. When grown the turkens weigh from 9 to 14 pounds.

LOSS OF KENYON WON'T HALT ONWARD MARCH OF FARM BLOC

United States Senator Arthur Capper says farmer will soon be made efficient salesman with the legal right to market his products collectively.

KANSAS SENATOR BATTLES FOR RIGHTS OF FARMER

ARTHUR CAPPER

By Arthur Capper
United States Senator from Kansas

The loss of Senator Kenyon in his appointment to the Federal bench will in no way stop the progress of the Congressional program sponsored by the Agricultural Bloc. That program is going right on—and through,—impelled by something so high and big and just that beside it the personality of leaders and members alike of the Bloc pale into insignificance. We are all mere instruments of service to that vast portion of our population that tills the soil. Our names, like the colors of our ties, count for nothing. Our principles count for everything.

The question of cooperative marketing, long kept a little Orphan Annie standing outside on the doorstep of Congress, now occupies a position of honor in the mighty Senate chamber. With the President of the United States formally and officially committed to it, and with hitherto iron-barred Senate doors giving way before it, it is just a matter of a short time before it will be written into the law of the land. The Volstead-Capper Bill will cut the irons from the farmer's heels and permit him to go to market alongside his neighbor and in comparative safety from the bandits who would way-lay him on the road. The American farmer can never be an efficient salesman of his own products without the clear legal right to market them collectively.

Other measures to which the so-called Farm Bloc has given its sanction include the Capper-Tincher anti-grain gambling bill, bills regulating cold storage and providing for adequate control of the packing industry, the Capper-French truth in fabrics bill, the bill that places a representative of agriculture on the Federal Reserve Board and bills creating more liberal banking credit, particularly personal credit, on crops and farm machinery, and making such paper more easily discountable.

Much of this legislation has been passed and the remainder advanced to a stage where passage, in the not far distant future, may be foreseen. The whole program of simple justice to the farmer has gained such momentum that nothing can stop it.

Not that there must be any let-up in the fight. With the departure of the Iowa Senator from the councils and voting strength of the Bloc, its members must and will carry on with increased vigor. And anyone that can see in the loss of Senator Kenyon anything like the possibility of the Farm Bloc disintegrating has his spectacles covered with Wall Street dust.

Uncle John's Poem

PASSING OF "UNCLE JOE"

REGARDLESS of political opinion or affiliation the country generally will shake hands with a feeling of kindliness if not regret when "Uncle Joe" Cannon passes into private life at the end of the presenet session of Congress. Eighty-six years old and serving his twenty-third term, "Uncle Joe" has stood as one of the picturesque figures that marked the American Congress of a decade ago as something different in the world of legislation. Nor can it be denied he has given good service to the state as well as to his party.

Uncle Joe's saving grace lay in his sense of humor. He took events more seriously than men. Himself he never seemed to take seriously at all. When two years ago his friends gathered to honor him there was a delightful charm in his brief remarks.

"The year 1872 was a memorable one in this respect," said Uncle Joe. "Vesuvius had a violent eruption, General Isaac Sherwood and I were elected to the house and there were other happenings—the organization of the German Empire, and the French republic, the emancipation of the slaves in Porto Rico, the connection of Australia with the rest of the world by cable, the great Boston fire and the Geneva award. But these concerned the world at large while the election of my friend and colleague and myself was personal." Uncle Joe has never considered himself a world figure. Perhaps he is not, but when he shall pass to the slippers and the fireside it will not be without having left his stamp on American life and legislation. At least he has taught us not to realize that the sudden and seeming vital things in life are but of passing moment and often unimportant in the light of time. Some of our more blatant legislators might well read a page from the life of "Uncle Joe."

WHERE DO THEY STAND?

THERE is something deplorable in the report that in 20,000 papers returned by students of high schools, colleges and normal schools six out of ten questions about men, places and problems of current public importance are answered wrong or omitted.

Taking 1,000 of this year's high school graduating classes in country districts, small towns and cities, the Institute for Public Service of Reviews for analysis, finds that 40 did not recognize President Harding's picture; 30 did not know who Pershing was; 630 did not know the meaning of "open shop"; 250 could not mention an item of current interest connected with Washington where the disarmament conference was in session, not to mention congress; 800 could not remember the much advertised Budget Director Dawes; 500 did not know that Mellon is Secretary of the Treasury; 970 could not recognize the picture of the United States commissioner of education, and 710 did not know the name of their own state school executive.

The only hopeful sign was that fewer senior boys failed on De Valera, Leonard Wood and Lloyd George than on who won the world series or the star actor in The Three Musketeers, and in fact that more girl seniors knew about Sinn Fein and the soldier bonus than knew about Susan Lenglen and Ruth Law.

It is rather alarming to note that 535 normal students who will next year teach 535 classes averaged only 25%, only one student averaging more than 70%.

ANDERSON VALLEY PEOPLE HAVE RIGHT TO COMPLAIN

It was called to the attention of The Press last week the Anderson Valley section has been placed in District No. 2 1-2 and under the provisions of the state law they cannot fish before July 1. By the first of July the waters are all dried up, usually, and accordingly they are precluded from fishing by weather conditions. The same regulations make it possible for Auderson Valley people to catch salmon only during such time as the salmon are not fit to eat. The legislative members from this county should see to it that the law is amended at the next session.

Attorney L. W. Loveley, was here from San Francisco on legal matters Thursday. Mr. Loveley came up to be present at the sale of the Eugenie Fately property which was bid in by Frank Mahoney. The property is located in the Round Valley section and is a valuable piece of land. It brought $20,000.

THE OLD CIDER-MILL

On evenings like this, as I sit in the gloaming, my mem'ry goes back as one's memory will; I give it full sway in its erratic roaming, until it lands plump at the old cider-mill—the mill of my Dad, in the old apple-orchard,—the only machinery the old man possessed; it ground up the "culls" and it squoze out the nectar, that thrills me this minute, down under my vest. That old cider-mill was the pride of my boyhood, though smug yellowjackets contested my right, and sometimes I landed an angry baldhornet, that taught me too well how a devil can fight. I've sat on the fence in supreme contemplation and scratched my brown leg, as a lazy kid will,—and longed for a bumper of liquid inflation that oozled betimes, from that old moonshine still. —That old apple-grinder, that staunch old stem-winder, that dealt out the juice, like an old moonshine still.

From Uncle John.

It Put Out The Fire

Gibert Stuart, an American actor, arrived in London last week accompanied by a friend from the state of Maine—a state in which there is, perhaps a more strict enforcement of the "dry" regime than anywhere else in the "Land of the Free."

Before retiring Mr. Stuart's friend ordered a bottle of whisky to be sent to his room.

The next morning he woke up with his mouth in a condition that might be described as muddy and thought it best to consult the hotel manager on the subject.

"Your whisky was all right," he told the manager, "but the stuff in the siphon was simply rotten."

"But I sent no siphon to your room sir," said the manager.

Recrimnation. Expostulation. "Well," said the American "look here. What d'y' cal that?" With these words he pointed to a siphon-like vessel on the mantelpiece.

"What d'y' call that? Eh?"

The siphon in question was a fire extinguisher! Evidently it had served its purpose.—Le Petit Parisien, Paris.

No Experience

Down in Texas the short cotton crop forced a large number of country negroes to the cities. One of these applied for a job at one of the large employment agencies. "There's a job open at the Eagle Laundry," said the man behind the desk. "Want it?" The applicant shifted uneasily from one foot to the other. "Tell you how it is, boss," he said finally. "I sure does want a job mighty bad, but the fack is I ain't never washed a eagle."

An Interloper

The occupants of the parlor car of the Limited were startled by the abrupt entrance of two masked bandits.

"T'row up yer hands," commanded the bigger of the two. "We're gonna rob the gents and kiss all the gals."

"No, pardner," remonstrated the smaller one, gallantly. "We'll rob the gents but we'll leave the ladies alone."

"Mind your own business, young fellow," snapped a lady passenger of uncertain age. "The big man is robbing this train."

Far From Home

A pacifist orator in Hyde Park, London, was declaiming against war. Seeing a returned soldier listening on the edge of the crowd, he roared out: "See that man! He is garbed in the uniform of war. But I belong to the army of heaven." The Tommy, leisurely removing his pipe from his mouth, replied: "You're a 'ell of a way from your barracks, then."

Handicapped

Joe: "You know, it's hard lines on Tom, him bein' so shortsighted."

Bill: "Why? You don't have to have good eyesight for his job?"

Joe: "No, but he can't see when the foreman ain't lookin' and so he has to keep workin' all the time."

Where Was He?

He asked a young lady if she would wed;
With a smile in her bright eyes, she roguishly said:
"Go ask father."
Now she knew that he knew
That her father was dead.
And she knew that he knew
Of the life he had led.
She knew that he knew
What she meant when she said,
"Go ask father."

CONCERNING BROWNIE
By Nancy Byrd Turner

Let scoffers doubt if they will—
Too real a little chap he moved,
And ran and romped, and wagged and loved,
Not to be somewhere still.
Granted he did not have a soul,
There,s surely some reward of merit
For having such a trustful spirit,
A friendship so heart-whole.
Of course he could not hope for heaven,
—He might not look on seraphim,—
But, somehow, I believe there's given
A place his Maker meant for him;
That if we saw with clearer eyes,
And deeper mysteries had learned,
His small brown form might be discerned
Safe in some humble paradise.
Perched, cheerful, in a cozy niche
(Most like his cherished window-seat, Cushioned and comforting) from which
He gazes on the pleasant street,
A wise and watchful wrinkle wearing
While all the old-time folk go past;
And pricks a prideful ear, at last,
And, all ecstatic, sets abeat
A celebrating tail—keen hearing
The fall of dear familiar feet.
I cannot find it in my creed,
Yet very plain it seems to me
That, off, away at topmost speed,
Afire with hospitality,
He deems himself, and is, indeed,
The little dog he used to be.

THEY DROVE UP.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Schirmer and children drove up from Cloverdale Wednesday. Mr. Schirmer, who is soon to open a big store here, came up to see how progress on the new Sandelin block was being made and returned home satisfied with the excellent quarters the new store is to provide.

that's where the superiority of Cycol is proved

Actual results in actual service is the most conclusive test of the motor oil. Cycol stands up under engine heat, prevents many engine troubles, gives greater power and mileage. These are the only attributes that should guide you in buying motor oil.

Says one motorist: "Cycol gives more power." "I have less trouble with Cycol in the motor," says another. Here's what others say: "I get 400 miles to the gallon;" "Cycol gives me better compression;" "Cycol stops overheating;" "Used only 3 quarts — Berkeley, Calif. to Astoria, Ore.;" "Cycol is the economy oil."

The reason for Cycol's remarkable performances is its freedom from destructive "sulpho" compounds. These impurities are removed by the new Hexeon Process, used only by us. This process vastly increases stability of motor oil under engine heat—a result long sought by the scientific lubrication world.

The absence of destructive "sulpho" compounds means that Cycol does not break down, thin out or evaporate rapidly in the motor. It maintains the essential lubricating film, preventing metal-to-metal contact and friction wear between moving parts.

Make a service test of Cycol. Flush your crank case, not with kerosene or so-called "flushing-oils" but with the grade of motor oil your Lubrication Chart recommends, and refill with Cycol of the correct grade as specified on the Cycol Lubrication Chart.

Society and Club Gossip

Days of Old Were Recalled at Club Affair

No happier expression of patriotic spirit was manifested in local circles than at the meeting of the Cultus Club Tuesday evening, Feb. 21 at the home of Mrs. Neil Anker in West Stephenson street.

The hostess, Mrs. Anker and a number of the club women were charmingly gowned in Colonial dress. One particularly fetching and interesting gown of white satin was a wedding dress 75 years old. It was worn by Mrs. T. A. Templeton who made an extremely charming figure as she stood to give the book review of the evening which was Albert Johnson's "Colonial Folk Ways." The book has a two-fold interest, partly because of the love of folk lore and partly because of the love of country that dwells in all normal American souls.

In the absence of Mrs. M. Banker the first vice-president, Mrs. Keith C. Eversole presided. The decorations of the Anker home were in keeping with the spirit of spring and carried also a note of patriotism.

Roll call responses at the supper table were "anecdotes of Washington".

Pussy willows were effectively arranged in baskets, the handles of which were tied in fluffy bows of blue and buff tulle. Occasionally a bow of the same fluffy material in the red, white and blue, was introduced in the color scheme. A spirit of camaraderie was inspired early in the program hour by the unison singing of "Yankee Doodle." The club rollicked through the six verses to the accompaniment of a mandolin in the skillful hands of Miss Shirley Perry. Refreshments were served at small tables carrying a dainty floral note. Guests of the club included Mrs. E. E. Mooney and Mrs. Luella McCracken. The organization will meet again on Tuesday evening, March 7 when the dramatic section will present the playlet "For Winter, For Summer." Mrs. Robert Austin will be the hostess.

WHITE ELEPHANT SALE

Nothing could be more promising for interest and thrift than the "White Elephant" sale which the Saturday Afternoon Club will stage next week for the benefit of the County federation convention fund of the club. In April the Kosmos and the Saturday Afternoon Clubs will be hostesses to the county federation of Women's clubs in an all-day session which will include a complimentary luncheon for the delegates and visitors and it is to help defray the expense of the luncheon that the sale is planned. No report has been made as yet as to where the sale will be held but efforts are being made to secure a down-town location. All sorts of useful and artistic articles will be offered and on the closing day-Saturday-a big food sale will be held.

FOR CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. Ernest Ruddick was a bridge hostess on Wednesday assembling the members of her card club for a delightful game at her charming suburban home south of town. Quantities of narcissus and daffodils from the Ruddick garden made a pretty spring-like setting for the meeting. The score favor was won by a guest of the club, Mrs. Lorene Holliday Brown. Miss Fraser also served as a substitute of the afternoon. A dainty refreshment service added to the pleasure of the guests.

LILAC PLANTING WILL BEAUTIFY THIS CITY GREATLY

By MARIE HINTON REA

Sounds pretty, dosen't it, to say the lilac has been chosen as the flower of Ukiah. Only one or two towns in the state have officially adopted a flower. There are so many to choose from in Ukiah it is a wonder any three people could agree.

There are the great drifts of dogwood, paler than moonlight adrift in the forest; precocious buttercups, with saucy faces peering behind every clod by the wayside; wild iris hovering over their green blades like so many blue and white butterflies; dainty wild roses raising timorous cheeks to be kissed by the wind.

But Ukiah has chosen the deeply purple and the waxy white cones of buds and blossoms sheathed thickly in leaves of vigorous green and heavy with scent that, somehow, tells you spring is really in the air.

And now let us plant whole hedges of them and clumps—and wouldn't it be rather nice to have the driveway to the garage skirted, on either side, by sturdy branching lilac bushes. And do not forget the chicken pen. A row of lilacs will shut its unsightliness away from the eye.

Wasn't it Robert Louis Stevenson who said something about hearing the thrushes sing in the lilacs 'round the lawn? That's a pretty idea too. Make Ukiah's flower do duty as a background for your bit of lawn. Carl Purdy has said we have no real lawns in Ukiah—that a grass lot is all they really amount to and we agree with him but even a clump of lilacs will set off a grass plot.

Perhaps someone will suggest a song contest with a prize for the one who can "say it with lilacs." There are so many fine ideas we might work out now that we have an official flower.

And do not forget the wild lilacs that haunt the hills in late April with their elusive odor losing itself in woods-smell and their myriad cones of blue and white downturned in the air for wandering bees to drain. Who does not long for the gift of poetry—the language of the Gods—when their thoughts go drifting down cool canyon walls o'er hung with wild lilacs? Join the lilac planting brigades this spring. Back Ukiah in the movement for a city of lilacs. A few years hence it will be a wonderful sermon the flowers will preach from the text of beauty, loyalty and co-operation.

DISCUSS SCHOOL BONDS

Incorporated in an interesting program of readings and musical numbers at the February meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of St. John's M. E. Church yesterday afternoon was an instructive talk on the importance of the school bond election. The speaker was Mrs. W. D. L. Held. Always interesting as a speaker, Mrs. Held put earnestness and common sense into her plea for the success of the bonds. The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. L. J. Holzhauser and Mrs. O. F. Graf. The decorations were of a patriotic nature and included streamers of bunting in the national colors and greenery. A dainty refreshment service closed the pleasant meeting which was largely attended.

Law Points Explained To The Club

THE Kosmos Club observed its annual law and legislation meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. L. H. Foster in North Dora street. The afternoon was a notable one with many interesting features. The organization was addressed by Attorney William Van Dyke who explained many points of law to the assembled women, particularly those pertaining to women. The community property law came in for its share of attention at the hands of the speaker who read extracts from the opinions of eminent authorities as well. A resume of the plans of the newly organized County Federation of Women's Clubs was given by Mrs. L. H. Foster, the hostess of the afternoon who also told of present plans of the Ukiah Chamber of Commerce.

At the conclusion of the program numbers the guests were escorted to the newly finished recreation room on the upper floor of the Foster home where small tables were used for the tea service. The decorations were of narcissus arranged in Japanese bowls. Swinging Japanese lanterns in gay colors added to the pretty effect. Roll call responses, given while the club members were seated at the tea tables, were on points of law, as it relates to every day living.

ASSOCIATION MEETS

One of the most interesting meetings of the Parent-Teachers' Association was held Friday afternoon, Feb. 24, when the whole program hour was given over to a discussion of the school bonds. Many enlightening opinions were given in the various angles developed and misunderstandings were swept aside. The meeting showed clearly that women are developing a capacity for team work and, if the bonds do not carry, it will not be the fault of the public spirit of the worth-while women of the community. Mrs. Orval Tadlock presided. Musical numbers were offered by students of the schoo l as follows: Vocal duet, Vera Van Dyke and Juanita Iversen; Vocal solo, Virginia Benjes. Mrs. R. D. Mace and Mrs. F. L. Patterson contributed a delightful piano number.

About fifty members answered roll call.

GUESTS OF PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Caughey are in Ukiah this week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Caughey. This is their first visit at the Caughey home since their recent marriage in Los Angeles and many friends of the bridegroom are greeting them cordially. They are residing for the present in Sacramento where Mr. Caughey is engaged in the practice of law.

WILL ORGANIZE CLUB

Saturday evening a meeting will be held in the Saturday Afternoon Club rooms for the purpose of organizing a University Club. It is understood graduates of any university will be eligible for membership. The club hopes to be responsible for sponsoring many cultural movements, particularly toward bringing worth-while entertainment to Ukiah.

IN EASTERN RECITAL

All of the music-loving world was interested in the piano recital of Ashley Pettis, the gifted young son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Pettis of Talmage who was heard in Aeolian Hall, New York Feb. 9 before an audience that included many brilliant artists and the following Californians: Mr. and Mrs. F. Steinway, Mr. and Mrs. L. Strauss, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bachaus, George McManus, Doria Fernanda, Marcella Chaft and many others.

Telegrams of congratulations from New Orleans, California, South Carolina, Massachusetts and many other points were received by the artist.

Following the concert the New York dailies gave Mr. Pettis much favorable comment and an interview was given in "Musical America."

The program numbers included

Chromatic Fantasie and Fugue....Bach
My Heart Ever Faithful.....Bach-Lavignac
....Variations F. Minor.....Haydn
Rhapsody, Op. 79. No. 2 .....
Intermezzo, Op. 117, No. 2.....Brahms
Ballade, Op. 47 .....
Nocturne, Op. 27, No. 1 .....
Scherzo, Op. 39 .....Chopin
Clair de Lune .....Debussy
Prelude (Manuscript; Dedicated to Ashley Pettis) ....Antonio de Grassi
Legende; St. Francois de Paule, marchant sur les flots .....Liszt

Among the New York press comments were the following:

Herald: He disclosed a fine musical talent already well developed. Not of the storming tempestuous type of players, he held the interest of his hearers by his beautiful piano tone, taste and poetic feeling.

American: He is a musician who evidently judges possibilities and effects conscientiously and presents his ideas clearly and carefully. He gave a scholarly performance of Bach's Chromatic Fantasie and Fugue, revealing the intricate polyphony with clarity and precision.

CLAIMS ATTORNEY STOOD SECURITY FOR A BIG LOAN

Asserting the late T. J. Weldon had made a loan of $2500 to P. and C. C. Morsberger for him and that in doing so Mr. Weldon had taken two per cent as his commission and agreed to repay the loan personally, if the parties who got the money did not do so and that, following the death of Mr. Weldon his administrator failed to carry out the understanding Douglas Walker is suing R. D. Weldon, administrator, for the balance due.

Strange Growth Is Found In Pumpkin

Oscar Hargis has a freak vine which is attracting a lot of attention. It was discovered inside a pumpkin, which Mr. Hargis cut open. The vine is about five feet long and has on it some good sized leaves. Just what the vine is no one who has examined it appears to know. The growth has been placed inside a bottle filled with preserving fluid and will be kept as a curio.

HAD HARD TRIP

Constable Joe Weselsky is back from a hard trip which he was forced to take when serving summons on witnesses in the Van Duren murder case. Mr. Weselsky drove his machine to Laytonville and from there went into the Black Rock country on horseback. The roads were extremely muddy and during most of his trip Mr. Weselsky encountered pouring rains.

HEALTH CONDITION OF CITY EXPLAINED

The health situation in the public schools at present is very good. There are very few colds and the attendance is rapidly coming back to normal. The large number of children who were kept at home due to the fear of epidemics have returned. The situation in the city is apparently among the best in the state, Ukiah being among the minority of towns reporting epidemics. This is probably due to closing the schools because of the low attendance and forestalling what might have occurred.

What Situation Is

There are some cases of pneumon; a few cases of "flu," and a greater number of grippe still with us. It would be well to know the symptoms of "flu" and how to prevent it. The disease usually resembles a very contagious kind of cold, accompanied by fever, pains in the head, ears, eyes, back and other parts of the body. In most cases the symptoms disappear after three or four days—the patient then rapidly recovers. Some, however, develop pneumonia or inflammation in the ear, and many of these complicated cases die. There is as yet no way in which a simple case of influenza can be recognized. Moreover in the case of ordinary colds the general symptoms, fever, pain and depression are by no means as severe or as sudden in their onset as they are in influenza. In most cases the person taking sick with influenza feels sick rather suddenly—he feels weak, has pains in his eyes, ears, head, back and abdomen and may be sore all over. Many patients feel dizzy and some vomit. Most of the patients complain of feeling chilly, and with this comes a fever in which the temperature rises from 100 to 104 but the pulse remains relatively slow. There may be running nose, or there may be some cough. As already mentioned most of the cases are apparently infections of the respiratory organs and resemble a very contagious kind of cold. Ordinarily the fever lasts from three to four days and the patient recovers. When the death occcurs it is usually the result of the development of pneumonia or some other complications. No matter what particular kind of germ causes the epidemic it is now known that influenza is spread directly or indirectly from person to person, and probably that the germ, whatever its nature is carried about not only by those who are ill with influenza, but those who are entirely well. Everything which increases personal contact therefore, should be regarded as a factor in spreading influenza. Thus they may be spread quite directly by being carried with the air along with small droplets of mucous by coughing, sneezing, forceful talking and the like.

Go to Bed Quickly

It is important for every person who becomes sick with influenza to go home at once and go to bed. This will help keep away dangerous complications, and will at the same time keep the patient from scattering the disease. It is highly desirable that no one be allowed to sleep in the room with the patient. In fact, no one but the nurse should be allowed in the room. If there is a cough and spitum care should be taken that all such discharges are collected on bits of gauze or rag, or paper napkins and burned. If the patient complains of fever and headache he should be given water to drink, cold compress on the forehead and a light sponge bath. Only such medicine should be given as is prescribed by a doctor. If a patient is so situated that he be attended by someone who must look after other members of the family it is advisable that such an attendant wear a wrapper, apron, or gown over the ordinary house clothes while in the sick room, and put this off and wash and disinfect hands when leaving to look after the others. The patient should have separate dishes, and they should be boiled after using, and the attended will do well. Guard against breathing the dangerous germs by wearing a simple mask of gauze while attending the patient. All linen which comes into contact with the patient should be soaked in a disinfectant solution for two hours, and then boiled. If these instructions are carefully carried out there will not be much danger of whole families suffering from this malady, and recovery is practically insured, to a large extent. The prevention of influenza can be summed up in a single word—CLEANLINESS.

DR. L. K. VAN ALLEN,
Public Health Officer.

Factory Expert Is Here And Will Stay

G. E. Henry, of San Francisco, has arrived to take up his duties with Housen & Higgins. Mr. Henry is an expert on Chevrolet repairing and in addition is a factory-instructed man. Hereafter all repair work at Housen & Higgins will be done by Mr. Henry, or under his direction. It is the intention of the local distributors to provide service for their patrons and in doing so to include everything from the smallest to the largest items.

ACCOUNTANT SICK

Miss Sarah Murchio, accountant at the Savings Bank of Mendocino County, was a victim of influenza this week and was not able to be at her usual post in the bank.

Mrs. Ada Squires, who teaches one of the Redwood valley schools, is ill this week. Her place is being taken by Mr. Rafferty, a veteran school teacher of the county.

French Lilacs To Be Used By City

The Ukiah Chamber of Commerce is arranging with Carl Purdy, the local plant wizard to provide extensive quantities of French varieties of lilacs to be supplied to local residents in the lilac planting campaign to be inaugurated in the immediate future. Further and more definite information will be forth coming during the latter part of this week or early next week.

TO HAVE AUTO SHOW HERE —TO BE EXTENSIVE AFFAIR

Housen & Higgins are planning on having an auto show here just before Easter. A large number of automobiles for which Housen & Higgins are the local distributors will be on display and in addition there will be a dance in the immense rooms of the firm's business house. The last time Housen & Higgins attempted such an event the countryside attended and everyone was highly entertained and much real knowledge regarding automobiles imparted.

Consider the Door Construction on the Buick Four Sedan

This is merely another example of the care with which Buick bodies are built and of the attention to details which contribute so much to ownership comfort.

Notice the solid steel lug on the door. When the door is closed this lug fits into a slot on the door post. It is held firmly in place within the slot by means of two heavy pieces of metal.

This device holds the door rigid—prevents its rattling no matter how rough the roads and also prevents wear in the tongue of the lock—a characteristic occurence when the door is held closed only by the lock itself. This is a feature on all Buick closed cars.

C. A. BERNHARD WOULD BE A CAPABLE CITY TRUSTEE

C. A. Bernhard last week stated he had read the plea made by The Press for Ukiah business men to come forward and agree to make the race for city trustee and that he had consented and would be a candidate at the coming election. There could be no better type of man than Mr. Bernhard put forward for the place. His only aim always has been for the betterment of the community and he has unselfishly given of his time and money for Ukiah. He is easy to get along with and would work intelligently with the other trustees.

J. P. Mulholland, a recent arrival in Coyote Valley and a newcomer who is thoroughly in love with this part of Northern California, was in the city the last of the week on business matters.

NOTICE OF COMMISSIONERS SALE OF REAL PROPERTY ON FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGE

In the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Mendocino.

D. Z. LEVALLEY, Plaintiff, vs MRS. HATTIE ARENS, as the administratrix of the estate of AUGUST ARENS, also known as and sometimes called A. T. ARENS, and HATTIE ARENS, Defendants.

Under and by virtue of an order of sale issued out of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Mendocino, in the above-entitled action, based upon a judgment and decree of foreclosure of mortgage made and entered by said Court in said action, wherein and whereby the plaintiff, D. Z. LeValley obtained a judgment and decree of foreclosure against the above-named defendants, I am required, directed and commanded to sell as a whole and in one parcel those certain lots, pieces, or parcels of land, situate, lying and being in the County of Mendocino, State of California, bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Lots Six (6), and Fifteen (15), of Section Seven, in Township Twenty-two, North, Range Sixteen (16), West, M. D. M., and Lots Two and Three of Section Twelve (12), in Township Twenty-two (22), North, Range Seventeen West, M. D. M., together with all and singular the tenements, hereditaments, and appurtenances thereunto belonging, or in any wise appertaining.

Public notice is therefore hereby given that at the hour of Ten o'clock, A. M. of Saturday, the 11th day of March, 1922, at the East entrance to the County Court House in Ukiah City, County of Mendocino, State of California, I will, in obedience to said decree, judgment and order of sale, sell, at public auction, in one parcel, to the highest and best bidder and for cash lawful money of the United States of America, all of the above-described real property.

Dated January 25, 1922.

ELMER G. BUSCH
Announces his candidacy for the nomination of
JUSTICE OF THE PEACE OF UKIAH TOWNSHIP
at the primary election to be held August 29, 1922.

MORRIS & LEROY

Coast Slayer Was Charged With Crime

Neal McCallum, slayer of his brother-in-law, William Kirkland, Jr., at Point Arena a week ago Thursday morning, faced the superior court of Mendocino county at 10 o'clock Saturday morning to be arraigned on a murder charge.

First Degree Charged

Information, charging him with murder, was filed in the court before Superior Judge Hugh L. Preston, Friday during the calling of the court calendar. Mr. McCallum will plead self-defense.

What May Be Alleged

Mr. Kirkland, it is said, at one time fired several bullets into the wall of his home during a dispute with his wife, from whom he was separated at the time of the killing recently. This will probably be advanced as one point of McCallum's defense. Another it is said, that will be urged in support of the self-defense plea, is that Kirkland, a constable, was thought to be armed, and when he called at the McCallum home last Thursday morning, stood on the porch with both hands in his hip pockets.

No gun was found on his body, but an automatic pistol was discovered in his automobile, which he had parked near the McCallum residence.

ELMER G. BUSCH TO SEEK NOMINATION FOR JUSTICE

Elmer G. Busch, well-known resident of Ukiah, is going to make the race for justice of the peace. Mr. Busch was fo ra long time in the Abstract business in Ukiah and later went to the California Grape Products Co. by which corporation he is now employed. Mr. Busch has a large circle of acquaintances and, if he is elected, will give the public an excellent administration.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Fulwider are enjoying a visit from their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Omar Fulwider and children, who live in St. Helena. The visitors drove up, but are stormbound and will not attempt to leave until the weather settles.

IS STARTING LATE

Joshua Grindle got the auto fever when in the city last week, doubtless on account of the auto show, and is understood to have ordered a Studebaker light Six. Mr. Grindle has made several ventures into the automobile field in the past but he has never kept a car for himself exclusively. However, Mr. Grindle may intend to become a full-fledged motorist this time. Commenting on Mr. Grindles exploit. The Beacon says:

"If he does we advise all the neighbors, to start practicing climbing fences and trees."

C. A. Yates, well known Redwood Valley rancher, was on the streets accompanied by his son, Saturday last.

Mrs. Herman Gunderson was down from her Redwood Valley home the last of the week.

ESCAPED CONVICT IS BELIEVED IN COUNTY

Officers who have been trailing three desperate convicts who escaped from San Quentin penitentiary last week are now satisfied at least one of the trio is in Mendocino county, evading the cordon of prison guards and the sheriff's posse which night and day kept close watch of all the roads of escape and searched the brush covered hills about Petaluma, Willis R. Knowles, convict No. 30-258, who with two companions escaped Thursday night from San Quentin, remains at large, probably in northern Sonoma or Mendocino county.

Knowles is believed to have headed into the hills. The eight guards from San Quentin, led by James Reid and assisted by police resumed the hunt, following San Antonio creek, where the first trace of the escaped convict was found Saturday.

Watch Farm Houses

Strict watch is to be kept on all ranch houses in the belief Knowles sooner or later will be forced to leave cover and seek food. The hunt for Knowles in Sonoma county began Saturday, when R. C. Rasmussen, owner of a ranch, told Chief of Police M. Flohr of Petaluma he had seen a man in his barn.

When police and prison guards arrived at the ranch half an hour later, the man had disappeared. A prison sock bearing the number 30-258, and a hammer, found under a pile of hay in the loft of the barn, identified the man as Knowles.

James Reid, prison guard, declared the hammer to be the one stolen from his automobile sometime ago.

Sheriff John M. Boyes with a posse consisting of Deputy Sheriffs Marvin Robinson, Harry Patteson and Joe Ryan was called to the scene and the search for Knowles was started up the canyon of San Antonio creek.

Further trace of the convict was obtained when bits of prison registration and pass cards were discovered about a mile above the Kastania ranch along the creek. The bits of paper, fitted together, contained the name and prison number of Knowles.

Got Wrong Tip

Knowles was given a longer start on the posse, when it was reported he had been seen going over a hill to the west. While the posse followed this clue, Deputy Sheriff Robinson continued up the creek and found the torn papers. The search was diverted.

Several persons reported later that afternoon they had seen a man answering the description of Knowles. He always took a new course to avoid meeting them, they said.

A chicken rancher, whose name was not given out by authorities, told the searchers he had met a man on a hill-top.

As Knowles works toward Mendocino the guards keep constantly on his track.

Had Pity for Him

The escape came near being shot when he was discovered in the hay loft of the Rasmussen ranch above Petaluma. Speaking of the matter the owner of the ranch said:

"I sent the boy out to put some hay down for the horses.,' Pretty soon he came running into the house and said there was some animal in the hay. I grabbed a shotgun and went into the loft with the man.

"While he poked around in the hay with a pitchfork handle, I stood ready to shoot. He must have struck the man, for he put his head and arms out of the hay. He had on a black hat, and at first I thought it was a skunk, and was already to pull the trigger.

"What are you doing in here, I asked him and he said, 'Go away and let me rest, I've got the flu.' "

Mr. Rasmussen said he had just recovered from the influenza himself, felt sorry for the man, so invited him into the house to get something to eat.

"No, let me rest first. I'll come in after awhile," the man said, according to Mr. Rasmussen.

After he had gone back to the house, Mr. Rasmussen said he began to think about the escaped convicts, so he telephoned officers.

When a posse of prison guards and police arrived at the ranch, the man had disappeared from the barn. Then the sock and hammer were uncovered.

Mr. Rasmussen told authorities he had missed some cream from the dairy house and believes Knowles stole it before going into the barn to sleep.

ROUND VALLEY

can Jersey Cattle Club, N. Y.

Made Fine Impression

Prof. Bryant of the University of California, being the first on the program, gave the people a fine demonstration as to how good animals should be judged, showing all the different points, both of sire and dams. His work was certainly well liked by the people of Round Valley. It is not many times we have an opportunity to have with us a man of such big authority in cattle judging as Prof. Bryant. He also gave a good talk on Calf Club Work, telling the people how calves will be scored before entering the Round Valley High School Calf Club.

Mr. Loughary, Sec'y of the Oregon Jersey Club gave quite a talk on breeding of Jersey Cattle, his remarks being along the lines of work now being done by the Oregon Jersey Breeders. He told the people the hardships and disadvantages, and also the loss of the dairymen during the time they were cleaning up and breeding their herds to the standard that they are today. Oregon has some of the finest Jersey herds in America.

We Use Little Butter

C. E. Gray, President of the California Central Creameries, talking of the dairy future, used very plain language, and made it clear to the people that the dairy future depends entirely on them. He mentioned the work that the California Dairy Council was doing to get the people to improve our markets and get the people to use more milk and butter. He also mentioned the fact that the people of Canada are using 28 pounds of butter per capita per year. New Zealand, 25 pounds, while the people of the United States are only using 15 pounds. What we must do is to teach the people to use more butter, and to do this we must work all the time towards producing a better quality of goods. A greater part of this work depends on the dairymen themselves. By delivering to the creameries good clean and sweet milk, the creameries will be able to turn out a better quality of butter. With a better quality of butter, the people will use more, so if everybody will do this, the future of the dairy industry will be good.

Keeps Herds Pure

The next speaker of the day was B. H. Rawl, Chief of Dairy Division, Washington, D. C. His talk was along the development of a Pure Bred Jersey community, what the people can expect from it. He also took occasion to congratulate them on what they are now doing in eradicating tuberculosis from their herds. He said there is no place i nthe United States where the dairymen took this up and accomplished what the Round Valley men have done in such a little time. He also made good many comparisons of scrub herds and bulls, and purebred herds and bulls, namely, the difference in returns to the dairymen and the community in general. He said it would not be long until the buyers of pure bred Jerseys will be looking to Round Valley as the place to get their prize winners.

Praised for Work

The last speaker for the day was F. S. Astroth. He read and explained the pedigrees of each animal and told what is back of them, finishing up with a hearty congratulation to the dairymen of Round Valley for the work that they were doing and also thanking the people in general in turning out so strongly to celebrate the occasion with the dairymen.

BIG SCHOOL RALLY TO BE HELD TONIGHT

The plans and arrangements have been completed for the Town Rally and open Forum Meeting in the interest of the school bond election by the Ukiah Chamber of Commerce which is to be held this Wednesday evening at Odd Fellows' Hall. The public is invited and the meeting is arranged for the purpose of affording an opportunity for all to acquaint themselves with the importance of this project.

San Franciscan to Speak

The principal speaker of the evening will be Col. C. A. Simmons, Executive Secretary of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, whose subject will be "The Guaranty of Tomorrow." Other speakers will be B. B. Conner, whose subject will be "Attractive Schools," and County Superintendent Roy Good, whose topic will be "School Advancement." Opportunity will be given for a general discussion of the subjects. The attractiveness of the program will be enhanced by music and entertainment features including orchestration by the Ukiah Concert Orchestra directed by T. W. Maguire. A vocal solo by Miss Joy Van' Allen, and a reading by Miss Virginia Herron. A genuine treat is promised in the address by Colonel Simmons by those who have heard him on previous occasions. He is a recognized authority on community improvement matters, and is said to be a man of exceptional oratorical ability. The meeting will convene at 8 o'clock and will be run on a time schedule over a period of two hours.

PAUL DIMMICK DEAD

Paul Dimmick, superintendent of the Albion Lumber Co. of Albion, dropped dead Monday afternoon in San Francisco. Mr. Dimmick had been ailing for a number of months and for some time had been under the care of specialists. Deceased was prominent in the affairs of Mendocino county and was recognized all over the coast as a lumber authority and mill manager.
